Milk Price Futures and Options - change of last trading day

NZX Product Operations provides notice that the contract specifications for the following contracts are amended so that the Last Trading Day is 12 September 2018 rather than 13 September 2018:

- NZX Milk Price Futures, Contract Month September 2018 (MKPFU18); and
- NZX Milk Price Options, Contract Month September 2018 (MPU18; MCU18).

This change is being made in accordance with NZX Derivatives Market Rule 8.11.1, due to changes in administrative practices affecting the performance of these contracts, being Fonterra Co-operative Group Limited's recent scheduling of the final 2018 season milk price announcement for 13 September 2018.

NZX Product Operations advises that the Expiry Date and Settlement Dates for these contracts will remain unaffected, and that these contracts will remain in a suspended state from the close of normal trading on 12 September 2018 up to and including their respective Expiry Dates.
